

Cooper Arraigned On Bribe Charge

Union Official to Enter Court Plea Thursday

Charles F. Cooper, a Richmond official of the Bartenders' Union, will enter a plea Thursday in the courtroom of Superior Judge Wakefield Taylor to a charge that he attempted to bribe District Attorney John Nejedly.

Cooper was arraigned yesterday on last month's grand jury indictment naming him as the person who offered Nejedly a reported $150,000 for protection of gambling interests in the county.

THE LABOR OFFICIAL'S attorney, former Congressman Robert Condon of Martinez, requested the week's continuance for the purpose of entering a plea. Condon made no motions of any kind at yesterday's arraignment.

Judge Taylor also continued Cooper's $20,000 bail. In a transcript of Nejedly's testimony before the grand jury August 18, which was released this week, Cooper is named as the person who spoke with the district attorney on two occasions regarding protection for the gambling activity of Walter (Big Bill) Pechart, former county gambler now in Reno. (See other story.)

UNDER QUESTIONING by Assistant District Attorney David Levy, Nejedly said Cooper told him (Nejedly) would have to give some of the $150,000 to Sheriff Walter Young and "would have to take care of one of the newspapers in the country." (See "Under the Sun," editorial page.)

Both Pechart and Young have denied any knowledge of the bribe offer. Nejedly testified that he first encountered Cooper at a Martinez restaurant July 1, and that the union official told him he (Cooper) "had been asked to make a contact for—with me—concerning gambling activities in the county."

THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY continued, "That his (Cooper's) principal, Mr. Pechart, was interested in getting back in Contra Costa County, that he understood things were happening in the county, and he wanted to get into the county as quickly as possible, that Mr. Pechart had authorized him to offer me $150,000 in order to secure protection."

According to the transcript, Nejedly said the second contact with Cooper was via a telephone call July 16, during which, the district attorney testified, Cooper again mentioned Pechart's name. Nejedly stated that Cooper "gave me the picture, the understanding that he knew Young needed money badly and that Young would be advised, and that I would make the partial payment to Mr. Young."

HE EXPLAINED that Cooper told him the amount to be given to Young would be left to his (Nejedly's) judgment. An expected motion by Condon to make public the entire grand jury transcript, rather than only Nejedly's portion, did not materialize at yesterday's court appearance.

COOPER, WHO VANISHED after the indictment was issued August 18, surrendered himself to sheriff's officers last Friday afternoon, and shortly thereafter was released on the $20,000 bail. Neither he nor Condon would discuss the case or Cooper's whereabouts for the 10-day period.

Highway Federation Tells County Freeway Problem

Contra Costa highway needs were outlined before the State Highway Commission in Sacramento Thursday, August 27, by Harold E. Mutnick and Elliot J. Hartman, representatives of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation.

Mutnick, a Lafayette resident, reported a "very favorable reaction" to the recommendations of the group, although no promises were made.

The representatives stressed alleviation of the bottleneck at the Broadway tunnel and recommended a third bore and freeway construction from Orinda crossroads to the tunnel.

"This would add two lanes to the tunnel thoroughfare. With good traffic engineering they could be used westbound in the morning and eastbound for the afternoon rush hour," said Mutnick.

"Chairman of the Commission Bradford told us that most freeway construction is premised on federal aid. If the financial support doesn't come through most of the state projects will have to be severely curtailed."

Mutnick noted that federal aid on the tunnel project would probably come to 50 per cent of the total cost. "Another thing that would keep the cost to taxpayers down would be splitting the tab on the project between Alameda and Contra Costa counties," he added.

The speakers felt that the "primary need" was in construction toward the commuting traffic line to Oakland and San Francisco. They stated that "traffic relief should begin with and radiate out from this employment center."

Also high on their priority list was construction on the two north-south legs of the Monument freeway. They recommended extension toward Willow Pass Road north of Concord and continuance northward to the southern approach of the new Martinez-Benicia bridge.

Mutnick and Hartman concluded their presentation, "It is respectfully urged that, if at all possible, any start in attempting to alleviate the multiplying traffic congestion be made from the Bay Bridge, working therefrom outward to our area, thereby eliminating 'bottlenecks' created by constructing 'spot freeways' upon isolated sections of state highway."

"The commissioners assured us that they would not forget our needs, but reminded us that this is a state-wide problem. We felt that our trip to Sacramento was a success and are sure that they will keep our needs in mind," said Mutnick.

Pechart Calls Cooper 'Liar' In Bribe Flurry

Charles F. Cooper, indicted labor official, was called "a liar" by gambling czar Walter M. "Big Bill" Pechart Tuesday.

The statement came in a blistering reply to the D.A.'s naming of Pechart as the backer in Cooper's unsuccessful attempt to bribe District Attorney John A. Nejedly, Sheriff Young and a county newspaper.

NEJEDLY IS BELIEVED to have produced tape recordings of conversations with Cooper concerning the offer before the County Grand Jury. Cooper is under indictment for the alleged bribe attempt.

No mention of the tapes was made in the Public Grand Jury transcript Monday.

Cooper's attorney, Robert Condon, said that he would press the jury to make the entire transcript public. He felt that his client should have all of the evidence presented, "not just that of Nejedly and himself."

Pechart, onetime gambling boss of Contra Costa County, replied to Cooper's charges in Reno, where he operates a hotel gaming concession.

"COOPER'S STATEMENTS are unfounded and untrue. I never discussed anything with him. I only met the man twice."

Sheriff Young, recently raked over the coals by the Grand Jury report, denied any knowledge of the bribe. "It's news to me," he said.

Cooper disappeared last week after being indicted at the close of the Grand Jury hearing. He gave himself up to authorities last Friday and was released on $20,000 bail.

Sought on a bench warrant is Marvin Timberlake, Lake Tahoe resort impresario, who took the Fifth Amendment in previous jury hearings.

The Grand Jury reconvened yesterday, but has dropped the vice probe in lieu of the State Attorney's presentation of evidence.

The Attorney General stepped into the probe and is continuing investigations of vice and gambling in the county.

Assistant State Attorney General Clarence Linn will question Raymond Van Tassel today. He was Sheriff Young's campaign manager in the last election.

Orinda District Bids Open on Wagner School

Bids will be due on September 23 for construction of the Wagner Ranch School, unit one, in Orinda.

They will be opened in public at the Orinda Union School District office at Pine Grove School at 7:30 p.m. on that date.

The school will be located at the intersection of San Pablo Dam Road and Bear Creek Road, consisting of six classrooms and an administrative unit and site improvements.

Bids will be submitted on the forms available in the architect's office, 2800 Park Boulevard, in Oakland.

San Diego Man Dies in Crash

Robert Eric Samuelson, 25, was killed when his car smashed into an abutment of the new Charles Hill Road overpass early Tuesday.

The San Diego resident was heading west toward Oakland when he evidently fell asleep at the wheel and crashed.

On three youthful years "on the bum" in various parts of the world, when he also began to be intensely interested in religion and philosophy.

SINCE THEN he has traveled widely on the money made from real estate investments.

Out of journalism at 18, his first successful book was finished just before his 50th birthday, and was published a year later.

His activities are now those of the country gentleman, using the knowledge he has gained to safeguard his investments.

His idealism is not gone, however. HE IS NOW an active member of the San Ramon Valley Congregational Church, and will preach the layman's Sunday sermon in October.

His story, how to make money, naturally is a fascinating one for everyone who must eat, and especially for those who must feed others.

He has been accused of offering formulas which worked for him only because of luck.

His publishers, Simon and Shuster, have proudly printed his answer to this:

"RIGHT NOW, it would be understandable if you were spitting, 'But—but—it's not that simple. There must be a catch to it!'"

"Of course there is a catch to it! There are thousands of 'catches,' hundreds of pitfalls and traps for the unwary who have never traveled what I call the 'really road to riches.' But I made it, by learning as I went along."

And of course, Nickerson reveals all in his book.

Not only Americans like money, Nickerson said, "I get fan mail from all over the world; South Africa, India, the European countries."

"Many of those people bought my book in a little book stand in the New York International Airport. About a 100 copies are sold there a week. Japanese and Spanish rights have already been bought for publication overseas."

NICKERSON'S BOOK is No. 4 on the booksellers lists, and is No. 1 in total sales, including mail orders, he says.

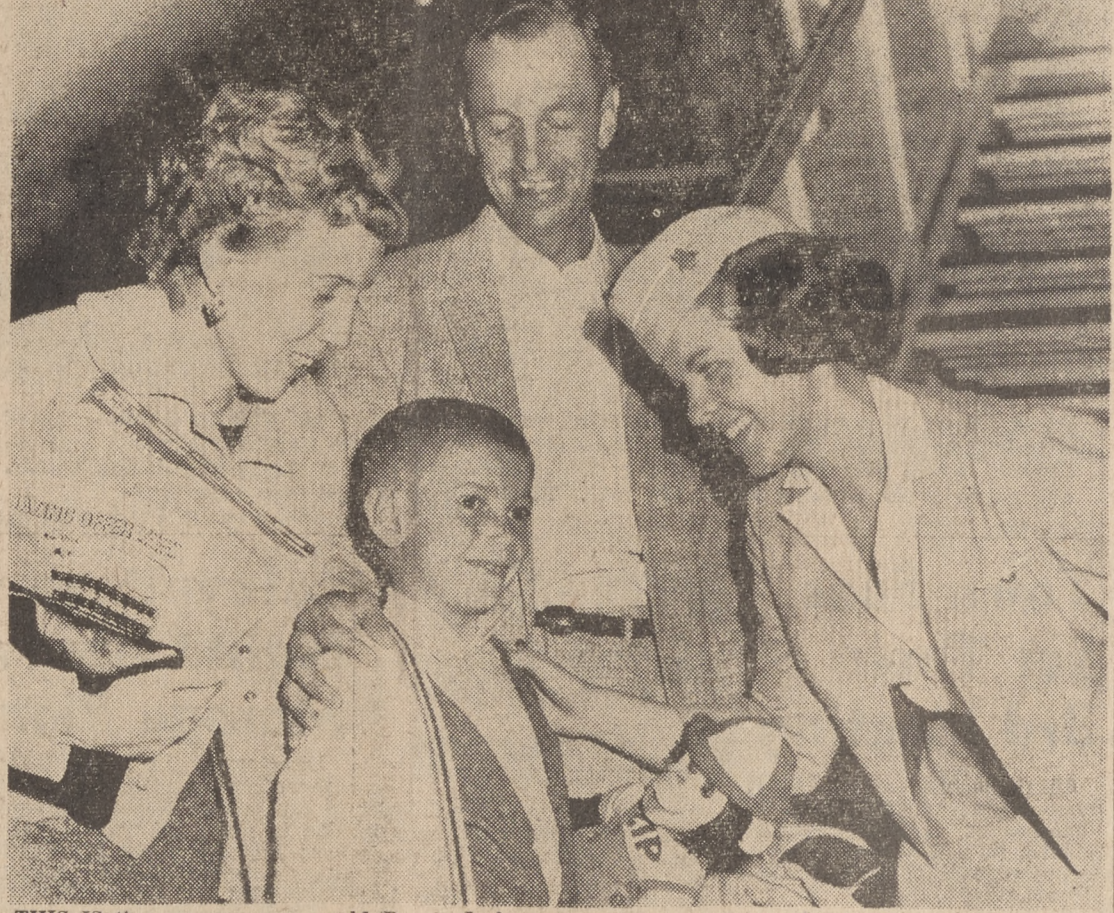

And he is working on two newer books—one on his travels, another on "How to Save a Nest Egg."

Both satisfy the passion for cold facts, which is shared by newspapermen and real estate men.

Danny's Operation Set For Today

THIS IS the way seven-year-old Danny Isola and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Isola, looked when they arrived in Chicago last Friday night for Danny's delicate heart surgery. Greeting the central county family at O'Hare Field in Chicago is Diane Bagusis, an American Airlines hostess. Danny, a "blue baby" since birth, managed to get to Chicago for his necessary operation through a fund drive started by the residents along his father's mail route in Orinda. The drive, which had an original goal of $3,000, actually raised close to $10,000.

Mail Carrier's Child Faces Heart Surgery

By LARRY GLAZIER

Little Danny Isola, the seven-year-old subject of a concerted fund-raising drive in Orinda earlier this year, is scheduled to be operated on this afternoon, Mrs. Harold Engman, chairman of "Dollars for Danny," reported yesterday.

Mrs. Engman, who headed the Orinda drive which netted nearly $10,000 toward Danny's delicate heart surgery, said a minor misunderstanding forced postponement of the operation from Wednesday.

DANNY'S FATHER, Larry Isola of Concord, is a mail carrier in Orinda, and Mrs. Engman and others along Larry's route thought up the "Dollars for Danny" drive.

Larry, Mrs. Isola and Danny arrived in Chicago last Friday night after a flight aboard an American Airlines jet from San Francisco.

During the early part of this week, Danny underwent the necessary tests for his operation at the Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago, and Mrs. Engman reported that Isola told her by telephone Wednesday night that plans are all ready for the surgery to begin this afternoon.

IT IS EXPECTED that Danny will remain in the recovery room all of tonight, and the first report from the hospital will be available tomorrow.

A "blue baby" since birth, Danny has transposed blood vessels leading to and from his heart, and doctors in this area said even one more year of life for Danny would have been unlikely without this operation.

The operation is to be performed by Dr. Thomas G. Baffes of Chicago, whose perfection of a radical surgical method about three years ago meant new life for many children affected by congenital heart conditions.

MRS. ENGMAN TOLD the Sun that Isola said the opportunities he and his wife have had this week of seeing others afflicted with similar conditions who have already partially recovered from the delicate surgery gave them "new hope."

She said Isola reported about a four-year-old San Jose boy in the same Chicago hospital who recently had the operation and "came through it perfectly."

According to the drive chairman, doctors report that children younger than Danny have less chance of success from the operation than seven and eight-year olds.

PERSONS THROUGHOUT the Bay Area and from as far away as Hawaii rallied to the urgent call for funds from the "Dollars for Danny" committee, and more than three times the requested $3,000 was raised.

The first class plane fare for Danny and his parents was donated by the Contra Costa Travel Service of Concord, and a large nationwide hotel chain donated the first week's hotel bill. After the first week, the Isolas will pay a half rate.

DANNY'S BROTHER, Mike, remained in California, and the drive committee presented a special gift of an erector set to him at the airport last week.

Th Isolas, who told Mrs. Engman they are "anxious to get the operation over with," are staying at the Sheraton-Towers, 505 North Michigan, Chicago, and would welcome cards or notes, Mrs. Engman said.

Chamber Favors Construction of New Tunnel Bore

Directors of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce voted Tuesday to officially endorse the Diablo Highway Federation's recommendations for completion of the freeway to the Orinda Crossroads, including construction of a third bore for the Broadway Tunnel.

The federation presented its recommendations to the State Highway Commission last week. (See additional story.)

CHAMBER DIRECTORS also voted to inform the highway federation that they are in favor of its recommendations for early completion of rapid transit studies involving the Orinda area.

Clarence Betz, chamber secretary, conducted the meeting, which was attended by only four of the group's directors. The regular luncheon meeting was held at the Casa Orinda.

On Betz's suggestion, the directors agreed to have the chamber ask the State Division of Highways for a top priority for funds to construct the additional bore of the tunnel.

THE CHAMBER group also agreed to request that the state install an automatic traffic signal at the intersection of Broadway Drive and Camino Pablo.

Voted to ask the state to perform additional work on the El Toyonal-Camino Pablo intersection.

LEARNED THAT Courtright was able to get the chamber's insurance rates reduced.

Announced that dues notices and listings for the chamber's new directory will be mailed very shortly.

Schools Doing Good Job? Ex-Students Will Tell

Contra Costa County high schools will attempt to find out how good a job is being done by asking 38,000 people who should know best—former students themselves.

County Superintendent Floyd Marchus announced today that a grant of federal funds has been approved for a follow-up study of the graduating classes over a 10-year period.

The study will use a questionnaire designed to discover how well the student feels his schooling prepared him for his career or college. A unique feature of the study lies in the fact that as many students as can be located will be contacted three times during the next five years to see what changes, if any, occur in their opinions.

Ultimate cost of the five-year study is estimated at $26,500, of which $11,500 would be available under the National Defense Education Act.

The project has been approved for federal funds and $3500 granted for 1959-60. School districts—all nine high schools and unified districts in the county—and the county superintendent's office will provide another $9400 for the first year.

Each individual school district will distribute and collect the questionnaires of its own former students.

Once collected, the completed questionnaires will be tabulated by the IBM equipment which is maintained by Contra Costa County for its governmental departments.

Settlement of Teamster Strike Benefits Schools

Settlement this week of the teamsters' strike in San Francisco and San Mateo counties means that Orinda elementary schools will be better prepared for the opening of school Thursday than was previously anticipated, according to Joseph Sheaff, district superintendent.

Sheaff reported that the only lengthy delay now seen by district officials will be in the opening of the district's third cafeteria at the Glorietta School.

THE SUPERINTENDENT said that the Glorietta cafeteria, originally scheduled to be ready for use by Thursday, still will not be opened until the week of September 21 because some large appliances must be installed.

Delivery and installation of the appliances was delayed by the teamster walkout, but Sheaff said the equipment now is arriving and will be installed within the next two weeks.

Sheaff reported, however, that deliveries of furniture, school supplies and foodstuffs for the cafeterias at the Pine Grove and Sleepy Hollow schools have been resumed.

Last week, Sheaff announced that the teamsters' strike had affected the Orinda Union School District to the point where it was doubtful that furniture for the recently completed Glorietta School additions would arrive in time for school.

Tax Assessor Staff Upped For Property Evaluation

The board of supervisors authorized the hiring of 23 extra employees in the assessor's office Monday. The addition is to speed up Contra Costa's property tax equalization program.

The new workers, principally appraisers, are to be assigned to the heavily populated western section of the county at an annual cost of $150,000.

County Administrator J. P. McBrien recommended the hiring, stating that the reevaluation survey throughout the county would not be completed until 1967 at the present rate of progress.

He predicted that the job would be done three years earlier upon approval of the hiring.

McBrien warned the board that unless the speedup is achieved "it is conceivable that the county may be subject again to an across the board valuation increase" ordered from the State Board of Equalization.

The state issued a mandatory

Question: How Can Realtor Write Book?

By NORMAN COLBY

The spectacle of an Alamo man writing a fabulously successful book, selling thousands of thousands of copies all over the world, has a lot of people wondering.

"How could he manage to do it? He's been trained to close deals, not to write," many have thought.

But William Nickerson's feat was no trick of fate. THIS WAS NO dream come true where the layman sits down on impulse and writes the great American novel.

His book, "How I Turned $1000 Into a Million" is the product of a newspaperman's skill with words and a realtor's ability to deal with economic facts.

"I had been working on this book for five years," Nickerson said. "It took a lot of time. I had to revise it extensively," he said.

"I MAJORED in English during my three years at Fresno State College, and supported myself by writing a column called, 'Fresno State College News' in a Fresno paper. I had done much the same thing in high school," he added.

"I expected to become a newspaperman, took journalism courses and was president of the College Press Club. I enjoyed the work, and writing."

"But there was a change of ownership, and well, it's a long story—I found myself on a rough-and-ready trip around the world at the tender age of 18."

Nickerson, who lives at 225 Wayne Avenue, Alamo, with his wife, Lucille, daughter Nancy 18, and son Robert, 14, can look back on three youthful years "on the bum" in various parts of the world, when he also began to be intensely interested in religion and philosophy.

Crest View Fire Sweeps Two Acres

A fire, believed to have been started by children, burned about two acres of grass and brush on Lost Valley Drive Sunday.

The combined fire departments of Orinda and Moraga sent seven rigs to the Crest View site. It took two hours to bring the blaze under control.

PLENTY OF TIME for gardening and talking. That's the case of Alamo real estate man William Nickerson, who has written a book read round the world, and his son, Robert.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Thanks for the Memory

TWO WEEKS WITH . . . Tents & tarps, bears & deer, Pop & Beer, stiff necks, soft muscles, hard ground, mosquitoes & bees, paper plates, Coleman stoves, greasy spoons, sooty pans & wishing you were back in your OWN kitchen until the first fish is caught & sizzles from the smoking fry-pan on the campfire.

WILL you EVER forget . . . the first night out w/the neighbor's tent?

Not even a trial run & everybody in the whole fam family famished & fretful & absolutely FRUSTRATED trying to find the right-side-up or the bottom-side-down of the tent . . . The pegs & poles, the slats & knots, the legs & holes & the darn thing collapsing w/all of you underneath it!

SUMMER isn't a VACATION, it's just a change . . . The glittering sky for a ceiling, the star-gazing in the Sierras MUCH more entertaining than the old TV set at home.

The drop-in company being the BEARS (after your icebox & sirloins) & you didn't even invite them! The crinkled clothes, the dusty feet, the insect world around you, a far cry from your usual fastidious Way of Life, but get used to it & WHO wants to come home? Better ethereal than things material!

The gay camaraderie of meeting other campers, here exchanging Trail tips & quips, just like you do back home over the back fence in the jargon of the gardener. The irresistible urge to uproot the flora & ferns, the pine seedlings, to bring them back home. But your conscience getting the best of you & your leaving them alone. Who knows? One may grow up to another WAWONA!

THE FAMILY WAGON, much the worse for wear, like YOU, it's machine run down after pulling practically the whole darn household over hill & dale & byways, highways. No more Exercise, just Simonize!

THE THINGS we did this Summer . . . The piling in & out & then back IN the car again . . . The unending STOPS at Service Stations & roadside rests . . . but a few miles down the road, & WHOA! Just like a woman, Mother left her carcoat on the coke machine, or Junior forgot to GO!

Memories are Made of This —

THE take-off anticipation of every trip that wears weary by noon when the children get restless & noisy & want to know constantly "How much farther, Dad?"

THE FUN of playing "States, No States Back" esp. in the Nat'l Parks where you see cars from EVERYPLACE, but California (it seems) . . . The game of "Ghost" & how it's good for the kiddies & their spelling until YOU get to the home & go off on the WRONG road—only some 14 miles in the wrong direction!

The salty smell of the seashore comes back to you as does the scent of wood smoke wafting deliciously through the pine woods. . . The Christmas Tree country abounding, the red dirt roads that lead to WHERE.

The long dismal driving you have to go THROUGH to get where you're going . . . The forlorn little farms & dreary lonesome houses sitting helter-skelter so FAR from ANYPLACE . . . The wondering who lives there & why & how & aren't you lucky you live in Orinda?

THE Souvenir shops & the always-hurried frantic mailing of post-cards to your pals (you promised to send them one, didn't you?) It usually get mailed from another town or when you get back home & have time to . . . The nifty fifty shoppes where you succumb to stuff you'll never use, but well, it's fun to buy pennants for the kids & let them pick out some useless object for you, too.

THE ICKY STICKY feeling of the drive home from wherever you've been . . . The lazy languid lethargy that overtakes YOU, the same Old Sport who was hiking the peaks, playing Ball, fishing & swimming all day. WHERE now is that energy? Has your Got Up & Go—got up and WENT! ALL SPENT?

Then HOME, SWEET home at the inconvenient hour, ALWAYS the inconvenient hour! The young fry are asleep & takes some doing to unload the car & the kiddies & the camp gear, start the washer running on the first of what will amount to a week-long job.

THEN the call that creates CHAOS. No sooner in the door than a jingle on the phone & a jovial voice saying "We just got into California & we'd LOVE to see you." Oh Boy! Oh Joy! House-guests again!!

It's soon all over & you know what? Like the man at the party once said "I've never lived in such a wonderful place I haven't had a chance to enjoy . . ." THAT'S how we feel about Orinda. THIS weekend, after being long-gone Goodbye, we're going to stay right here & enjoy it. See you at the Pool!

Telephone Talk Again!

Marie & Ted Schilling had the Right Idea along w/other Smart Ones . . . While Ted & Susan were away at Camp, they stayed right here, caught up on their entertaining, dined out a deux, took in the THEATRE & w/no stress or strain, had themselves a real restful vacation!

Teddy Schilling came home in time to celebrate his FOURteenth B'day w/a first-time Boy-Girl dancing party & to say the least, Ted & Marie enjoyed it as much as the youngsters.

Town Foes Set Their 3rd Meeting

Third meeting of the newly-formed Lafayette Anti-Incorporation League, the first organized movement against the community's incorporation, will be held Tuesday night.

The group held its second meeting last Monday night at the home of Allan Johnson, 3436 Moraga Boulevard.

A FACT FINDING board, appointed at that time, will report to the group of about 12 local homeowners Tuesday night, according to Hal Marty, one of the league members.

The fact finders include Marty, Leonard Murphy, Ed Alexander and John Keller.

Facts gathered by the men will also be presented to a public meeting, the details of which will be outlined later.

ACCORDING TO MARTY, facts on actual city government costs and expected city revenues will be presented at the public meeting, and a panel of experts in various fields of local government will answer questions on incorporation.

At last Monday's meeting, the group received answers about the technical operation of city government from Gordon Forrest of Lafayette, who is affiliated with the League of California Cities.

Orinda Schools Up 288—Means Double Session

The five Orinda Union District schools will serve 3340 pupils in kindergarten through eighth grade this year.

An increase of 288 over last year, the swelling student population will necessitate double sessions in grades one, two and three at Del Rey School and grade one at Glorietta School.

Double sessions at the two schools will be stopped in November with the completion of Inland Valley School off Ivy Drive.

Orinda's 100 teachers will prepare for the opening of doors Thursday in a training course to be held the first three days of next week.

The students were notified of their class assignments and bus schedules by postcard recently.

Cafeteria service at Sleepy Hollow and Pine Grove Schools will be resumed on Monday. The new Glorietta cafeteria facilities are expected to be finished by the 21 or 28 of September.

New personnel in the district include 27 different teachers, with science consultant Warren Coffee and P. E. teacher Shirley Gee to be placed at Pine Grove Intermediate.

Keith Burnham, formerly a teacher at Del Rey, will take over the duties of principal at Orinda School, while his predecessor, William Gaskell was recently named Inland Valley principal.

Lafayette Fight County Moraga Plan

Directors of the Lafayette Improvement Association appealed to the county planning commission to place the Burton Valley area, out to and including the St. Mary's Orchards and Lafayette Valley Estates areas in the Lafayette master plan rather than the Moraga general plan.

The directors also passed a resolution "firmly opposing rezoning or designation of a shopping area in Burton Valley."

County planners will hold their final public hearing on the Moraga Valley zoning at the Hall of Records on October 6.

No action has been taken as yet on the county planning department's recommendations in the general plan of Moraga.

The Burton Valley area mentioned in the Wednesday night resolution is also included in the boundaries for the proposed town of Lafayette.

The county's general plan for Moraga includes a major portion of the Moraga School District and the southeast portion of Lafayette School District, including the Burton Valley area, St. Mary's Orchards, Lafayette Valley Estates, St. Mary's College and the Moraga town site.

Properties of the Utah Construction Company and adjacent lands are in the proposed zoning area, which eliminates the Rheem district properties because they were zoned in 1953.

Plans for Second EBMUD Water Tunnel

Construction details for a three-mile water tunnel from Lafayette to Orinda were revealed this week by Joseph D. DeCosta, chief engineer of the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

To be known as Lafayette Tunnel No. 2, the large diameter bore will be part of the EBMUD Third Mokelumne Aqueduct which will bring additional Mokelumne River water to East Bay consumers upon completion in 1963.

THE TUNNEL WILL begin at a point near the EBMUD Lafayette Filter Plant and will end on San Pablo Creek west of the district's Orinda Filter Plant, DeCosta noted.

Total construction time for the new tunnel project is 36 months, according to DeCosta, with work to begin in the fall of 1959. The tunnel will be excavated from both ends simultaneously on a three-shift basis, he said.

In addition to the tunnel proper, the project will include an outlet control structure at the west end, a Briones Pumping Plant and a connecting conduit to the Orinda Filter Plant.

A LATER PROJECT will be the connection of the outlet control structure from the district's proposed Briones Dam and Reservoir at the tunnel's west terminus.

Route of the tunnel is west and generally parallel to the existing Lafayette Tunnel No. 1, part of the present Mokelumne Aqueduct system. The route of both the present bore and the new tunnel is through the ridge north of Charles Hill.

The project will begin at a point about 70 feet east of Sunnybrook Road, DeCosta stated. An open cut and cover section of about 400 feet will be required to reach the east tunnel portal.

A DETOUR parallel to Sunnybrook Road will be used while the tunnel section work crosses Sunnybrook Road.

Where the excavation interferes with El Nido Ranch Road, a detour will be used to divert traffic to the north and parallel to El Nido Ranch Road, DeCosta explained.

"The actual tunneling operation will be in the conventional manner of drill, blast and muck," DeCosta declared.

A TRAIN of mine cars will be pulled out of the tunnel about once every five hours, DeCosta estimated. At the east terminus, in Lafayette, the mine cars will be dumped and the spoil transferred by a loader to dump trucks and hauled to a spoil disposal area in Orinda.

Truck hauling of spoil material will be restricted to a 12-hour period from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., De-

Costa stated. The loading station tunnel will be north of the freeway overpass east of Sunnybrook Road and south of El Nido Ranch Road, he said.

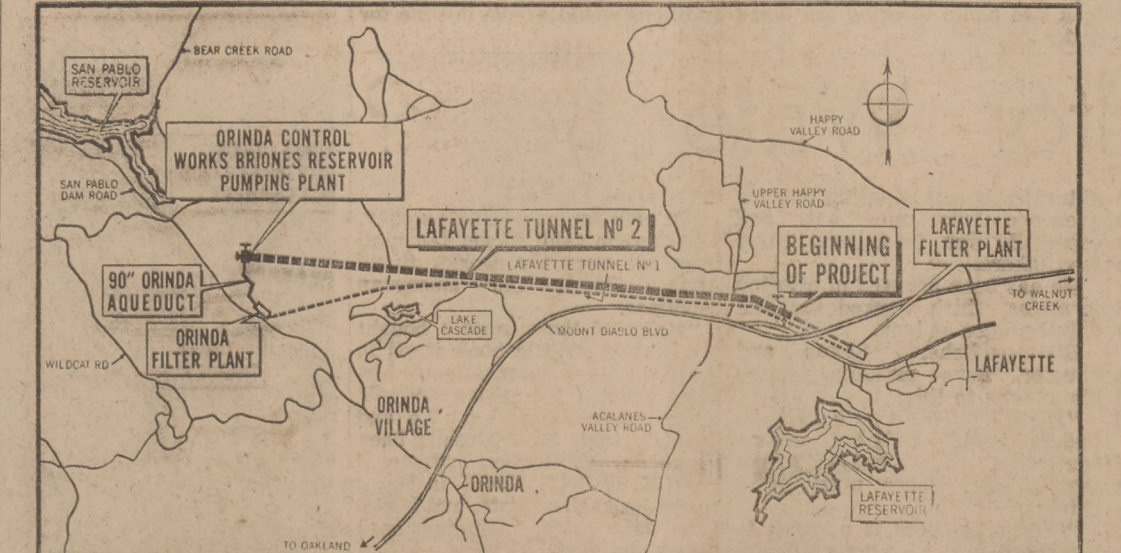

About eight to ten truck trips daily will be made on El Nido Ranch Road and North Frontage Road to Diablo Freeway, according to DeCosta.

THE STATE Highway Department has advised that Sunnybrook Road is scheduled to be closed off in November of this year.

Spoil will be placed in a spoil area north of the EBMUD Orinda Filter Plant, DeCosta announced. The area is about 1500 feet west of the Orinda Filter Plant, near the tunnel's west portal.

"IT IS THE intent of the utility district to establish reasonable controls over construction operations," DeCosta declared, "to minimize any public nuisance factor. The contractor will use electric driven air compressors in suitable housing, provide shielding of lights, dust control, maintenance of sanitary facilities and parking facilities for equipment and workers."

"It is the district's sincere desire to do the job with the utmost attention to public convenience and the least possible disruption of present road facilities," DeCosta emphasized.

THE ROUTE of the East Bay Municipal Utility District's new three-mile water tunnel from Lafayette to Orinda through the ridge north of Charles Hill is shown here. Work will start in the fall of 1959. This is another important segment of EBMUD's expansion program to meet increasing water needs in the east bay.

High Schools Get Ready For Rush

The four Acalanes High School District secondary schools — Acalanes, Del Valle, Las Lomas and Miramonte — are ready to meet record pupil enrollments returning to school, September 10.

Acalanes District secondary enrollment for the 1959-60 year, marking a "boom" will jump 12 per cent growth of 950 per cent for pupil enrollment since the district's start in 1940.

A corresponding 12 per cent increase in the teaching staff will parallel the increase in pupils, according to Neil M. Parsons, district superintendent.

Estimated enrollment breakdown by schools indicates 1365 pupils at Acalanes; 1295 at Las Lomas; 989 at Miramonte; and 175 at Del Valle.

Opening of school this September marks the addition of a fourth high school plant, Del Valle High in Tice Valley, to the Acalanes District system.

Del Valle, serving pupils from Walnut Creek and parts of Lafayette, opens to an initial freshmen enrollment of 175 pupils.

Additional facilities will be added to the basic Del Valle campus as the freshmen class moves on up through its four year high school program and new classes fill in behind it.

In anticipation of continued growth in the high schools, primarily from students already enrolled in the elementary districts within the high school district, Acalanes District trustees are currently purchasing a fifth high school site in the Rheem-Moraga-Lafayette area.

Masters Study: Sara Malinowsky

Sara Malinowsky, librarian of the popular Orinda Branch, is returning to the University of California this year on a leave of absence.

Upon finishing work for her master's degree at the School of Librarianship, Mrs. Malinowsky will return to Orinda as head librarian.

She is a former student of Montana State College and has been with the Orinda Library for four years. In that time it has grown to be the third largest library in the county.

Mrs. Malinowsky will take her place at the library until next year.

Families Visiting At Pebble Beach

Two Orinda families spent a few days each at the Del Monte Lodge in Pebble Beach.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Wright and Jean Wright, 611 Miner Road, and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wood, 19 Brookbank Road.

AN ORINDA MERMAID is Carolyn Schuler, 16-year-old daughter of Dr. Charles Schuler, 93 Van Ripper Lane, who won three first places and set a National AAU record in last weekend's Far Eastern championships at San Francisco's Fleischacker Pool. Carolyn won first place awards in the 100-yard butterfly match for the 15-16 age group and in the water division, and she set a new record for the 200-yard butterfly swim in beating the highly-touted Pat Rusk of Berkeley. The Orinda lass swims under the banner of the Berkeley YWCA.

Hanrahan Scholarships Start at St. Mary's

A $35,000 endowment fund for the scholarships has been established at Saint Mary's College in memory of the late Thomas A. Hanrahan, Bay area contractor, by his widow, Mrs. Thomas A. Hanrahan, and daughter, Miss Catherine Hanrahan, both of San Francisco.

Under the terms of the gift, proceeds of the endowment will provide scholarships to Saint Mary's College for graduates of Sacred Heart High School, San Francisco.

The recipient or recipients of the awards, to be known as the Thomas A. Hanrahan Memorial Scholarships, will be selected by the principal of Sacred Heart, with the advice and consent of the president of Saint Mary's.

First to receive a Hanrahan Memorial Scholarship is Gerald Moorman, a 1958 Sacred Heart graduate. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moorman of San Francisco, Moorman is an honor student who has already completed his freshman year at Saint Mary's.

Along with all five of his brothers, Thomas Hanrahan attended Sacred Heart High School, graduating in the late 1890s.

It had been his ambition to continue his education at Saint Mary's College but, as one of the eldest in the family, Hanrahan instead went to work to help with the education of the younger children.

He retained a lifelong interest in Sacred Heart and Saint Mary's. In recognition of his loyalty to the two educational institutions and the Christian Brothers, who operate both, the present endowment has been established by his heirs.

All of her expenses have been paid by the First Church of Christian Science in Stockton and the college.

"I'm delighted! The honor came as a complete surprise to me," said Dorene. This is her first trip away from home.

A junior, Miss Lehner arrived in Boston yesterday. College students from all over the world have been sent to the three-day conference.

Here's the Sun's Lucky Commuter

This gentleman striding confidently down a suburban street is this week's Sun Lucky Commuter. Each week The Sun prints a picture of a commuter and then waits with bated breath for him to claim his $8.75 in prizes.

Last week Glen Ayers, of 1213 Kains Avenue in Berkeley, identified himself, took the $5, and extended the year's subscription onto that of his in-laws.

But sometimes they don't come in. We're still waiting for some of The Sun's Lucky Commuters to demand their prizes. Remember, there's no statute of limitations on the Lucky Commuter.

Be sure to get next week's issue of The Sun—who knows, you may be the next Sun Lucky Commuter.

Dramateurs Will Begin New Play Next Weekend

The Dramateurs are in the final stages of rehearsal for the production of Terrence Rattigan's drama, "The Winslow Boy," the action of which takes place in Kensington, England, extending over a period of two years preceding the war of 1914-1918.

The play revolves around the Winslow boy, (Dick Bohr playing the title role) who has been expelled from his school for supposedly stealing a postal order.

THE BOY'S FATHER, played by James Stanislawsky, spends practically all of his money by dragging a case through the courts for two years, in his attempt to clear the boy's name, thereby upholding the family honor.

Others appearing in the cast are Helen Blankenburg, Orellia Salonen, Julia Whitcombe, Jewel Scheeline, Bruce Winkworth, Robert O'Connor, Paul Stillson, Robert Burkhardt and Dominic Scott.

The Dramateurs' fine director is Carl Rasmussen, who has been ably assisted by Dorris Stillson, Wirtabel Harris and Mary Genesey.

"THE WINSLOW BOY" opens Friday, September 11, and will run for four consecutive weekends at the Town Hall in Lafayette.

Tickets and reservations are available in Berkeley at Hink's Book Department, Peg Stanislawsky, TH 5-1100 and in Orinda, Clarence Betz, CL 4-4141. Also at Ben's 7 Arts Book Store, 1364 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, YE 5-3384.

Scrolls Awarded By Supervisors Jagard Wins Acquittal In Support Case

A certificate from the Board of Supervisors of Contra Costa County was presented last week to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, District 17 and the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association in appreciation for the TB patients' patio recently completed at the County Hospital in Martinez, by the two sponsoring groups.

In acknowledging the certificate, Mrs. June Terry, Walnut Creek, co-chairman of the project with Robert Covert, of Walnut Creek, stated, "Both sponsoring groups are happy to have contributed something tangible and permanent for the benefit of the TB patients of our county."

"The project is completed now except for additional patio furniture and plants that will be purchased with funds to be contributed by clubs and individuals," continued Mrs. Terry.

The sponsors expressed appreciation to the many business firms, clubs, and individuals who have given time, labor, and materials for the outdoor resting area for the tuberculosis patients.

John J. Jagard, former undersheriff of Contra Costa County, was found innocent Monday on a charge he failed to provide for his 14-year-old son, John Jr.

He was acquitted by Richmond Municipal Judge David W. Calfee following a brief court trial. Jagard's estranged wife, Louise, testified she had received only $335 for the support of the son from the date of their separation in August of 1958, until March 6 of this year.

She admitted Jagard had turned over some $3000 to her attorney for payment of community obligations.

Jagard said that during the period she mentioned he was unemployed, ill, and relying on friends for food and lodging. He now lives at 107 West Richmond Avenue in Richmond, and is employed in a whaling station.

Lynne Collier Is Manager of Sun's Classified

Lynne Collier, The Sun's new classified manager said this week, "I'm having a wonderful time talking with the businessmen of the community, and hope to see everyone of them before very long."

"I know we've got the best product to offer, and that makes it even more enjoyable," she added.

Mrs. Collier, an area resident for about six years, has had extensive newspaper advertising experience, and is a former New York City photographers' model and manager for a Walnut Creek slenderizing salon.

"It has always been my belief that the appearance in the Sun Shopping News and four subscription newspapers in Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda and Pleasant Hill gives and advertises more coverage than he can get in any other local paper," she said enthusiastically.

Mrs. Collier succeeds Mrs. Jean Scott who, during her years as classified manager, built The Sun readership and variety of offerings to first place among local papers. The Scotts now live in Southern California.

Nelson Again Is President, Dog Fanciers

Charles A. Nelson of Lafayette has been elected to serve a second term as president of the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club.

Directors at large are Robert McCarthy, Dr. Carl Mills and Siginn Bartz-Johannessen.

Bartz-Johannessen was also appointed training director and Howard Hooper was named secretary of the 13th annual Obedience Trials to be held in April, 1960.

Other committeemen include Mrs. Henry Cabral, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Al Peters, plaque chairman; Mrs. Carl Mills, class registrar; and Mrs. W. A. Ronneberg, club publicity.

Club plaques were awarded to club members and their dogs. Awards of CD (Companion Dog degree) went to Keith Gavin, "Boy," a Weimaraner; Pamela Russell, "Eric," German Shepherd; Anita Bartz-Johannessen, "Knutte," Poodle; Dr. Carl Mills, "Jet," Poodle; Joanne Molino, "Geege," Poodle.

Helen Lamoureux, "Peggy," German Shepherd; Paul Hampson, "Amber," Irish Setter.

The degree of CDX went to Esther Baldwin, "Bosco," Boxer; Louise Cabral, "Nikki," Poodle; and Frank Scherf, "Cherie," Poodle.

VOTING BY BLIND

When election time comes around each year in America, a blind citizen does not always know what special laws his state has enacted relative to his exercise of the privilege of voting. In some states the laws are very liberal and the blind person can bring along any assistant of his own choosing; in others the rules are more complicated. In an effort to advise all blind people what assistance they are entitled to at the polling places the American Foundation for the Blind has published a pamphlet listing the rules and regulations for all states. "Election Laws Affecting Blind Persons" can be obtained free upon request from the foundation, 15 West 16th Street, New York City.

The Inevitable Price That We Must Pay Is Worth It.

Rapid transit is here to stay! That would seem to be the consensus of everyone who has heard anything about it. We're speaking of the five-county rapid transit district.

There is just one obvious fact . . . it's going to cost one big pile of money to construct any kind of a workable system.

Let's face the facts. We have to have rapid transit, and if we have to have it we have to pay for it. And it isn't going to be cheap. On the other hand, we have no alternative.

It is obvious that we can't build highways fast enough to keep up with our present needs, much less in quantity and size to be able to care for future growth.

IT LOOKS LIKE, with all the talk about rapid transit that has been going on over the past few years, people have come to realize that the proposition is going to cost money, and they are resigned to it.

Recently the Bay Area Rapid Transit District completed a survey, the purpose of which was to help determine current public attitudes concerning various aspects of the district's program.

The major finding of the poll, which consisted of 1700 interviews in the five counties involved, included:

The rapid transit program as proposed is overwhelmingly favored by those who learn about it.

THAT 84.5 PER cent of those who had formed an opinion about the district were in favor of it.

That 72.7 per cent favored it even in the face of the estimated $700 million total cost for the expanded program.

That 87 per cent favored completion in some way of the proposed rapid transit system in relation to freeways. Most favored completion in conjunction with an expanded freeway program.

Briefly, well over a two-thirds majority of the people interviewed in all counties are in favor of the proposed five-county rapid transit program as presently planned. Most agreed that it would help the growth of their community and agreed that traffic congestion will certainly increase without the proposed program.

IT IS OBVIOUS that a great deal of knowledge must be disseminated before people can grasp the scope of a program as vast as this proposed rapid transit system.

It is encouraging to find that the percentage of people who do know of the program are so solidly in favor of it.

It is easy for all of us to drive down the freeways (when there are freeways where we want to go) in the bumper to bumper traffic, and dreamily visualize all those nice, fast, comfortable quiet trains that will whisk us cheaply from place to place.

But that time is still far off, and we must come back to earth with the solid realization that it is going to cost each of us dollars out of our pockets before it becomes a reality.

This is an obvious necessity. It will have to come. And we will have to pay for it.

Let's remember that during the coming months, and let's support the district and its actions in every way possible. It's realistic and it's necessary. We'll just have to pay the bill, that's all.

Come on Now, Be Honest! You Too Can Catch It

It doesn't take very long to contract polio. Just long enough to get the "bug" and then you've had it . . . unless you're awfully lucky.

Obviously, there is no need to depend on "luck." A perfectly safe, workable vaccine has been developed that will protect the great majority of people completely against this crippling disease.

It's not painful. It's not expensive. It isn't even much trouble. With these obvious facts to consider, you might think it an impossibility that people would remain unvaccinated.

But believe it or not, this is the case. IT IS EASY to say "I'll do it tomorrow," but tomorrow may be too late. It's easy to say, "I'll do it for the kids," but adults can get polio too.

Look at the following facts and consider your home and family. Do you fit into this category?

"In 1958 there was more paralytic polio in the United States than in 1957," warns Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney. Yet the pharmaceutical industry was recently impelled to destroy over 12 million units of polio vaccine for fear of deterioration, after giving away quantities of the immunizer before running into the wall of public apathy.

Against this sobering fact, the Health News Institute points out, stands a further statement by the Surgeon General: "DESPITE THE HIGH susceptibility of the Nation's pre-school children, about a third have had no poliomyelitis vaccine." Furthermore, he adds, among the total population under 40, the number still unvaccinated stands at 40 million.

A conference of interested groups, including public health officials, met recently in Washington to consider the problem. They agreed on one key factor: The primary responsibility for reaching the unvaccinated remains, as it always has, with the local community.

Now, the $64 question: Have you had your polio shots?

We Survived Moving Day And Now We're Ready

By LARRY GLAZIER

Have you ever . . . oh, of course you must have!

Yes, at one time or another, I guess, we've all had that absurd task of moving.

Picking up every solitary family belonging and moving it to a new home, where again most of them will sit for any number of months without being looked at, is a common symptom of our modern "hurry up for no good reason" society.

After spending a sun-baked month in the luxurious comfort of the in-laws' Reliez Valley home (they were on vacation), the time came last week for the three of us (my wife Renee, our son and I) to reestablish housekeeping.

WE CALLED THE storage company early last week and asked their representatives to take our household goods out of mothballs and to deliver them to our new Walnut Creek abode at 9 o'clock sharp Friday morning.

They consented, and Renee was thrilled.

On awakening me at dawn Friday she informed me, as wives usually "inform," that "This is wonderful, because it means you can go to the new house, greet the movers at 9 o'clock, have them out by 11 o'clock, and then we'll join you there."

Needless to say, I was at the "new house" at 9 o'clock that morning, and began my vigil.

Ninety minutes later there still was no sign of a storage van, nor of any of the people to whom we had so willingly entrusted all of our belongings little more than a month ago.

BECAUSE RENEE scheduled the installation of our telephone for much later that day, there was absolutely no way in the world for me to communicate with anybody.

So I sat, and finally, at shortly before 11 a.m., the movers arrived, and informed me that by 9 o'clock they had meant they would pick up their furniture at the warehouse at that time and would deliver it soon after.

The two men brought the first few items into our new home, and in answer to one of their questions about the whereabouts of the rest of my family, I proudly told them:

"I didn't want my little boy to be under your feet all the time, so I asked them to wait until the bulk of the move was finished before they showed up."

THE LAST OF these glorious words just barely out of my mouth, the clock sounded 11, and there they were—my wife and child, as punctual as they usually are late.

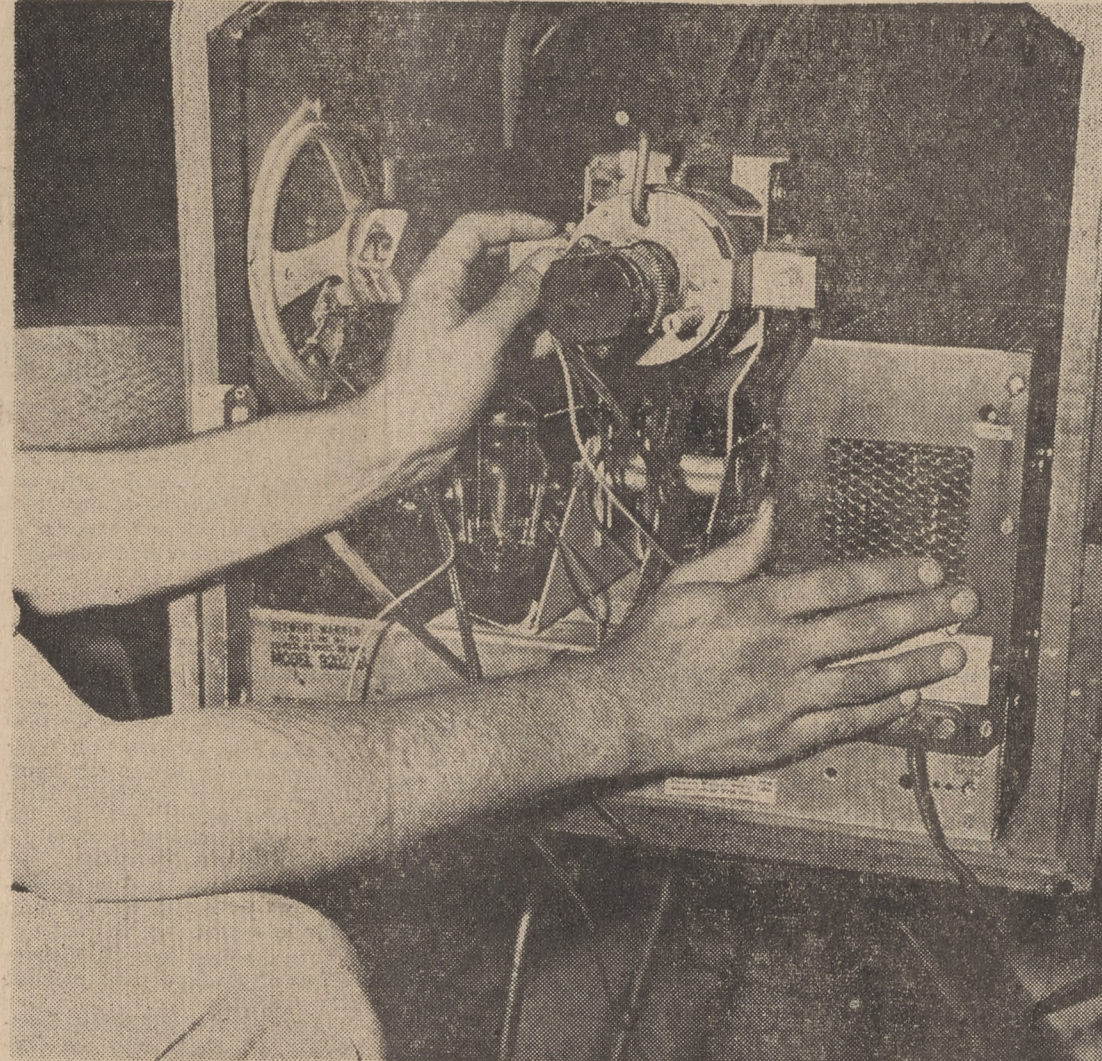

Alan, that's our son, a real bloodhound if ever there was one, did manage to get in the way of the movers and stayed there as the hour-by-hour moving costs mounted steadily.

Moving is one of the least-loved necessities of life in our home, but we've learned that the best way to combat it is to remain calm through it all and feel relieved and satisfied once it's over.

We finally got into our home, after a little difficulty in installing our electrical appliances, and even though it's several months premature, we've established a New Year's resolution to stay awhile.

Letters to The Editor

SPRINGHILL ROAD

Dear Editor:

The article in a recent Sun appears to put considerable emphasis on a minority report. A petition was submitted to the resident owners of the Springhill Road area and an overwhelming majority signed the petition which specifically asked the Board of Supervisors to exclude this area from the proposed boundaries of the town of Lafayette.

If a majority wishes to be excluded, and they are excluded, this is Democracy. If the majority present a petition to their supervisor and he presents their case to a meeting of the supervisors, then you have representation of the majority, and a job well done by their supervisor.

Let us put the record straight:

1. Last spring Mr. (Bill) Zion spoke to the Springhill Association on the advantages of incorporation. A very informative talk, however, no action one way or the other was taken at this time.

2. In the early summer two requests were made for a meeting to be called of the Springhill Road Improvement Association to have the other side presented and an opinion of the association taken. No meetings were called.

3. Finally, as time was running out, some who had been thinking of incorporation these past months, asked for another meeting which was to be Wednesday, August 12.

4. Sunday, August 9, it was learned that the supervisors would, on August 11, at 1 p.m., be considering exclusions of adjacent areas to Springhill Road which, if granted, would leave Springhill Road area a small projected finger in the fringe proposed incorporated area. It was at this same August 11 supervisors' meeting that the boundaries of the proposed Springhill Road Improvement incorporated area were to be set.

5. It was too late to act as Springhill Road Improvement Association. Therefore, it would have to be a decision of individual property owners whether they desired to be excluded from the proposed incorporated area.

6. Petitions were circulated to provide supervisors with evidence of the wishes of property owners of the Springhill Road area. No one signed these who: Felt they were for incorporation; were undecided; or were on vacation. Nevertheless, a majority of the property owners signed these petitions to be excluded.

7. Our Supervisor Mel Nielsen was asked to present the petition for us. He told us that our petition, time wise, might not be in order and it would all depend on the district attorney's office ruling whether he could present it or not.

As you know the ruling of the district attorney's office was "all petitions for exclusion had to be accepted according to law until boundaries and election day were set."

This was the last day these petitions could be accepted. Therefore, Nielsen was in order in presenting our petitions.

It would seem that your article and editorial has done an injustice to the majority of people of Springhill Road area and to Supervisor Mel Nielsen.

Under The Sun The Sun Is Pleased to be Included in Bribe Offer

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Nine years ago The Sun broke the story that the county's gambling czars had started wide-open gambling in Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek. The Sun was then offered a monthly pay off if it would "lay off" writing about gambling in the county.

The Sun's answer was a front page editorial revealing the bribe offer and a detailed account of the gambling situation. Many of you remember what happened next but let's not review that now.

Since then The Sun has fought gambling and the usual accompanying corruption of public officials. There was wide open gaming; then the slot machines; then, so-called legal dice tables. (Each time heat was put on, the big wheels switched to something else). Next came claw machines and poker parlors; then punch boards and pin ball machines.

Talking to crime busters

The Sun has appeared before numerous committees of county grand juries in past years. And several of these juries did excellent work fighting gambling. The Sun has contacted the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee, California Crime Commission, State Attorney General's office.

The Sun bitterly fought the entrenched machine in the county, including former Sheriff Jim Long and former District Attorney Francis Collins.

In any event, the strong gambling machine and the political machine finally were broken. This took a lot of doing by a lot of people—including you voters.

Vice, however, is a very profitable business and Contra Costa County has always been a very lucrative field. So it is no great surprise that the operators in recent months have attempted to "set up" the county again. The current expose and investigation will stop any further attempt at this time. But don't be surprised in a couple of years if another major attempt is made to re-establish organized gambling in the county. That is why law enforcement agencies, newspapers and you must always be alert.

Very interesting remarks

This week Sun staff members were most interested in the testimony made public in the indictment of Charles Cooper. You know that he will be tried for allegedly attempting to bribe District Attorney John Nejedly. (See story first section).

We did not know, however, that Nejedly testified to grand jury that he was told to take care of or split the $150,000 with Sheriff Walter Young and "one of the newspapers in the county."

The Sun is highly flattered by this generous offer. Certainly this would have been a better deal than nine years ago, when it was only $100 per pay day. Of course, The Sun has become meaner and more nasty since then, so it deserves a better deal.

Nejedly testified that Bill Pechart, now working in Nevada, was behind the bribe. Pechart was the big gambling king in the county and knows The Sun very well. His record, his picture, his deeds have been featured on The Sun's pages for many years.

If Pechart was behind the offer, (and we think it is logical), then we are highly complimented. We are happy that he has not forgot that The Sun helped crumble his empire and push him out of the county. We will be pleased to do it again at any time.

Coming — next week

In fact, we are so pleased with this special attention that I'm going to dig into the files and next week fill this column with some fascinating stories about Pechart and his partner Dave Kessel. It is an amazing story.

And I'm not too sure that this is all a matter of history. Obviously Pechart is still active. I believe he still owns the "fortress" in the former "no man's land" of El Cerrito. His former lieutenant is running pin ball machines in the county. Some people say they belong to Pechart.

When I say this is not a matter of history, I'm referring to the politics and the people who permitted (and perhaps encouraged) vice conditions to exist in the county. Most of these people are still active. Some are our most eminent citizens.

These people are still operating. They have been defeated at the polls in recent years. Their wings have been clipped. But they still are powerful.

What is next?

I expect some explosions at Cooper's bribe trial. I hear that an attempt will be made to put D.A. Nejedly on trial, to embarrass him, even to accuse him of instigating the original bribe deal. Remember, Nejedly is the primary witness in this bribe attempt.

A lot of people want to see Nejedly discredited. The people I refer to are members and associates of the old gang who used to run the county—and who still try. They profit by this.

Remember—Nejedly had the audacity to run against incumbent D.A. Collins, who never faced an election opponent before. Not only did John run against him—but he won. This is the greater crime.

And this was only a few months ago. These wheels were mighty unhappy last January when Collins had to step out of the D.A.'s office and let Nejedly in. Remember, too, that Nejedly has taken many dollars out of the pockets of the deputy district attorneys by forcing them to devote full time to their county job—and not run a private practice at taxpayers' expense.

This was a direct savings to you, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayers.

Yes, when Nejedly became DA the situation changed for a lot of people. The big question is: Are they out to "get" Nejedly?

Let's keep an eye on this.

MORE CASTOR BEANS

Dear Editor:

Recently two small boys, ages 2 and 3, dined on castor beans. As a result, they had their tummies pumped.

THIS WAS A very unpleasant and upsetting experience for all concerned. But not nearly so upsetting or unpleasant as their deaths would have been had prompt action not been taken.

In the past year three small children within a half block of our home (1160 Santa Lucia Drive, Pleasant Hill) have eaten castor beans.

Obviously, people are not aware that they are nurturing death in their gardens.

Please appeal to the public once more to remove this hazard from our children.

The daughters of the Kenneth Paul Gruanstadt, 760 Old Jonas Hill Road, Lafayette, Myra was escorted to the altar by her father. The Reverend Father Bernard Cummins, cousin of the bridegroom, officiated.

Bernard is the son of Mrs. Bernard Cummins and the late Mr. Cummins of Rodeo. His family has been part of the Contra Costa community for many years.

Myra graduated from Holy Names High School and attended San Jose State College.

Her bridegroom was graduated from St. Mary's College and is attending the University of San Francisco Law School, where he is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity.

The bride wore a gown of white silk peau de soie with appliques of Alencon lace at the neckline and on the bell-shaped skirt, which extended to a chapel train.

With her elbow length veil, she wore an imported flowered and beaded tiara, and she carried a prayer book with an arrangement of orchids and stephanotis.

Aqua organza sheath dresses were worn by her attendants, all of whom carried cascade bouquets of white roses and wore headbands of velvet leaves trimmed with pearls.

Her veil was elbow length and was attached to a lace covered cap with seed pearls.

Among the audience of friends and relatives were the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glendinning of 2189 Overlook Drive, Walnut Creek, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Riegg of 37 Cragmont Court, Walnut Creek.

The couple honeymooned in Carmel and traveled to Toronto, Canada, where the groom will do graduate work in hospital administration at the University of Toronto.

PARENTS OF freshmen students who will be attending the new Del Valle High School for the first time next week were relieved to learn that the County Board of Supervisors approved the appropriation of $2500 for the widening of the east shoulder of Tice Valley Boulevard (above) from Newell Avenue to the school. The parents protested two weeks ago, charging they had been promised the road would be widened in time for the school opening. Work on the road will begin immediately.

Bill Rigney to Boost John Muir Hospital at Rally

William "Bill" Rigney will speak on the need for John Muir Memorial Hospital at the public kick-off rally Thursday at 8 p.m. in Diablo Country Club.

Dr. Lowell A. Rantz, Stanford School of Medicine associate dean, will talk about hospitals and will answer questions.

The purpose of the rally is to broaden interest in the vitally needed hospital project in this "hospital distress" area, according to Bruce Copeland, chairman of the hospital board of trustees.

Hospital floor plans will be displayed, and questions on actual need, operation and financing of the new hospital will be answered by members of the hospital board of trustees, campaign workers and Dr. George Wood, prominent hospital administrator, who is the consultant for John Muir Memorial hospital.

Among special guests are Dr. Dudley Bell of Oakland, president of Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association; and Dr. Eric Reynolds of Oakland, president of California Medical Association.

"It's to be fun as well as informative, with refreshments and music, and everyone who joins us there will be heartily welcome," said Mrs. Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek, general chairman. Mrs. Carl Noecker of Diablo is arrangements chairman.

"Those with baseballs to be autographed had better get there early," Mrs. Howard added, with a laugh.

Demo Clubs Gathering

Lt. Governor Glen Anderson will speak at the County Federation of Democratic Clubs "get-together" Sunday at Castle Rock Park.

The public is invited. There will be swimming, baseball, volleyball, horseshoes and picnicking.

Scotty Russell Talks Golf

Watching Good Golfers Way to Own Improvement

By NEIL N. RUSSELL
P.G.A. Instructor

With the Golden Gate Open Championship but two and a half weeks away, I hope that all golfers who failed to take advantage of the one dollar fee will learn their lesson.

Beginning Monday, August 31, these same tickets went up to $2.50. Incidentally, this championship will be played over the Harding Park golf course in San Francisco.

All the big names will be in attendance, and it may be that some of our leading amateurs will place high on the final tabulation. The week of September 21 through 27 will afford enough time to establish your likes and dislikes among the top fifty golfers of the United States.

You will, I am certain, notice that a sound golf swing is an easy movement from right to left, as these first class players put it to good use.

I urge that everyone who can get away heads for the Harding Park golf club in San Francisco. If you wish the same top line golfers to return it will come about only by your patronage this year. It is a big undertaking to plan and work for so please back up these fine gentlemen, whose ambitions were for the good of golf and all it represents.

A week ago today the Dotten Invitational golf tournament held its annual charity get together at the Orinda Country Club.

The East Bay Boys' Club received a fine present from the proceeds of this tournament. Athletic equipment so badly needed will find ready hands, and with proper guidance will work wonders among these fine youngsters.

Don Dotten, and his hard working committee under the chairmanship of Vern Goodwin must be highly commended for the grand job performed.

Everything went off on time and finished on time. There were 160 golfers, many celebrities from out of town, as well as a number of our top ranking amateurs from around the Bay Area.

It was a best ball affair where every golfer had fun, enjoying helping this fine cause. This may sound strange to my pupils, but there is a reason why

I adhere to teaching pupils to swing with their arms.

The fundamental is called a swing, and as such must be adhered to, especially in the learning stages of the lessons. This is quite a difficulty with many beginners to perform, yet they learn to swing in the groove with consistency under careful direction.

We must also remember that these men and women whom I have the good fortune to teach are limited in their ability to practice.

It goes without saying that I must be careful in the early stages to see that the swinging movement is understood.

As time passes and I see that the swing is coming along as per my direction, I will try switching to body turning, all in one motion. This is the beginning of applied power, and instead of using the arms, I direct their bodies to generate power.

Some pupils readily understand and put the movement into action, while others fight one against the other (I mean the use of arms opposing the body). It takes time and willingness to devote oneself to this medium of power-speed. There is no question that to achieve power the pupil must have the time and patience to follow the instruction of the teacher.

Time after time I am asked when I am going to put power into the shot — from beginners who have only had three lessons.

They do not seem to believe that their training program is one of strict adherence to fundamental behavior, and they must prove that they are ready to receive this advanced knowledge.

If pupils will obey the simple instruction rather than listen to Tom, Dick, or Harry, they will become well mannered in their obedience to ethical standards which with careful adherence will some day make them good golfers.

My advice is always along the same line, take lessons, stop kidding yourself. For that is what you are doing. There is no one to blame but yourself. It is not a difficult decision to make, for your own golf game will tell you. Contra Costa Country Club Women's Group:

Mann and Maisie Win Orinda Title

The 1959 men's doubles championship of the Orinda Tennis Club goes to Tom Mann and Stan Massie, who defeated Jim Miller and Boone Robinson 4-1, 7-5 in the finals.

Both teams battled through a field of enthusiastic entrants, but the winners met their hardest opposition in the semis. Leonard and Mike Saputo ran them to 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 in a struggle of youth versus maturity with the seniors' steadiness finally prevailing.

The number of bank checks drawn each year has increased 10 per cent a year for more than a decade and by 1970, it is predicted, 22 billion checks will be processed a year.

Prep Football Full Steam Ahead

Pleasant Hill, Las Lomas Look Like Title Holders

The football practice season is well underway with scrimmages on tap for most today.

Drills and conditioning work along with play assignments, have been the order of the day since practice opened.

The first practice games are two weeks away and that means plenty of work ahead.

Over Danville way Coach Marvin Ashbey has been working the San Ramon club on a double practice schedule as they meet the highly touted Pleasant Hill team in the opener.

San Ramon had a strong club last season but rates even better this year with a host of 16 lettermen on hand—more than anyone in the area.

The San Ramon eleven also picked up quarterback Stu White, a senior player who last performed for Eureka High.

Thirty-eight members composed the varsity squad as of early in the week with the junior varsity set to report last Wednesday.

Coach Ashbey rates his first eleven as capable of handling themselves well against any team on their schedule with the universal problem—ever present—that of developing adequate reserve strength.

Coach Bob Stevens in his first year as head varsity man at Alacalanes appears to have a good first eleven with the biggest problem at the end spots where he lost a pair of lettermen before the season started.

Bruce Dodge met up with a brick wall when it fell on him and came out second best ailing with contusions and a broken collar bone.

An operation sidelined the other flankman Steve Lientz and, while both may get back late in the season, they are definitely out at this stage of the game.

A transfer, end Keith Dempsey, reported in to mid-week practice and could help fill the gap.

The Dons at present have 43 on the varsity squad while 38 have been assigned to junior varsity play.

The Dons have six varsity lettermen on hand in Danny Toll, Lou Cosso, Jim Holden, Don Nelson, Jeff Picard and Bill Jencks. Chris Rinne was a regular as a sophomore last year until he met up with a freak accident that sidelined him for the season. He is back in action and has impressed everyone with his speed from the halfback spot.

Another change has found Jim Picard, another guard last season, moving over to center.

Coach Bob Muenster of Piedmont, who always comes up with well drilled clubs, met his nemesis last year in Las Lomas as far as championship hopes were concerned, and, while he wound up second in his first try in the Foothill Division, he is aiming for the top rung in '59.

The turnout is on the low side for the Highlanders with but 55 reporting for varsity and jayvee. But the quality is good, particularly on the first eleven.

Steve Wilcox, last year's all league quarterback, is the big loss via graduation. Senior Rod Church, a former defensive halfback, and Steve Hogan, a sophomore, are battling for the key spot which gives Coach Muenster a one-two punch in the critical spot.

Bob Jones, who made all league as a sophomore, is back for more fullback duty.

In addition he has a heavy forward line that should give a good account of itself once competitive play gets underway.

The Knights have been a powerhouse for several years and copped the number one spot last year.

Graduation dealt the Knights a heavy blow and few veterans, let alone lettermen, are on hand. Six senior lettermen are on hand with only one back with experience in Ken Bernhardt.

The varsity group at present has 39 members with the junior varsity having 58.

Claude Monlux, a guard, and Mark Leidy, a tackle, are expected to join the varsity late this week. Both are from last year's championship junior varsity.

The Pleasant Hill Rams look to be in for their best ever as many pick them to win the Contra Costa Division of the DVAL. The Rams have 12 lettermen on hand, with a player for every position except center.

Head Ram Coach Hal Briggs has 41 on his varsity group with 42 reporting for JV.

The team has lights on its field for the first time and this promises to get it a psychological lift. Ron Webb, a letterwinner last season, has dropped out while center Les Busch has also been sidelined.

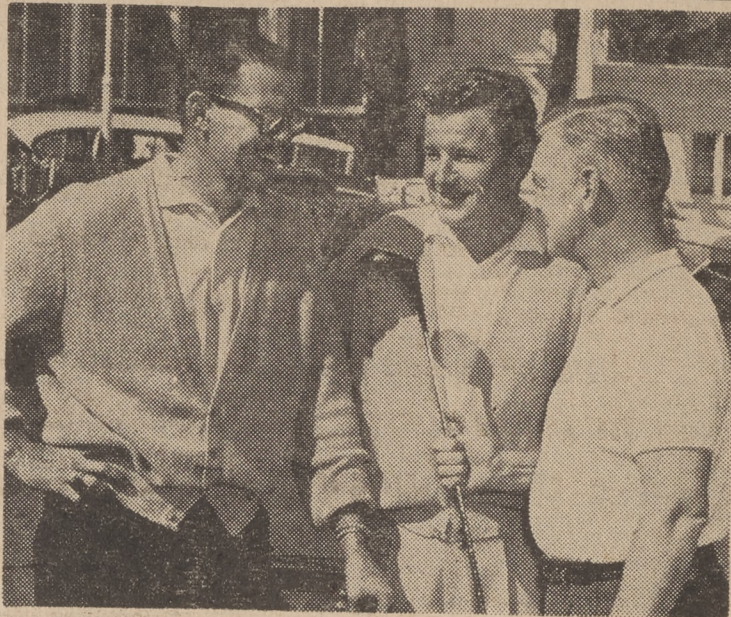

The backfield has speed as personified by Tom Webb along with heft particularly in the person of fullback Roger Foulk.

The veterans, plus a host of reserves, give promise for a good Ram year.

Miramonte has problems both in number of players and a lack of varsity experience.

The Matadors have but 38 players out with the varsity holding 23 while the junior varsity is paper thin with a meager 15.

Hopes are held that some will show up with the opening of school.

ASSISTANT PRO Will Strong and Head Pro Ron Patten discuss Diablo Country Club's Annual Invitational. It will be held September 5 and 6. Popular sports-caster Bud Foster is also pictured. He will publicize the tournament.

Former Las Lomas Gridder Drops Out of College

By ERWIN MATTSO

I see where Webb Johnson, who was a standout gridder at Las Lomas, has dropped out of college.

The report came out of Oregon, where he was considered a standout candidate. He was an all league prep player and one of the best defensive players in the area.

PLEASANT HILL HIGH has lights on its field but still doesn't know how it will look as the transformers aren't in.

Strikes and assorted difficulties have delayed their installation.

The set date now is September 10, just in time for a thorough test and a practice session or two prior to their opening game for the '59 season at home on September 18 with the highly-rated San Ramon High team of Danville.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that Pleasant Hill meets four clubs in the Foothill League in practice tilts.

They meet everyone except Miramonte that's engaged in league varsity play. That means San Ramon, Alacalanes, Piedmont and Las Lomas.

It will give a good comparison of the clubs in the Foothill Division before they get under way with league play.

GEORGE DEKLOTZ, who was the head man of the Las Lomas grid forces a good many years, has stepped down to an assistant's role, with Duane Louis, his assistant, taking over as the man at the helm.

Coach DeKlotz has had a long career in coaching, not only in high school, but in the college ranks as well.

As a matter of interest, he worked at St. Mary's College following the war, after being there as a cadet instructor.

HIS WIN RECORD is impressive, with his losses at Las Lomas few and far between, and it was climaxed last season when he won the championship with an undefeated season.

Coach Louis started the football season off with a bang when his wife presented him with a bouncing baby boy last Monday, the day of the opening grid practice for the Knights.

That makes three boys along with three girls, which is quite a team in itself.

ONE THING IS certain—the coach will be in shape, what with the planning and problems of a new head coaching job plus taking care of the five who are at home.

Incidentally, the new lights at Pleasant Hill are of the latest type developed by General Electric. Small in appearance, they look like the familiar enclosed spotlights used in display works.

The lights have small reflectors on top that look like small eye shades—evidently to divert the light downward where it will do the most good. It will be interesting to see them in action.

IT'S PERPLEXING for the motorist, but all according to plan for the Charles Harney engineers, building the Walnut Creek bypass and its giant interchange. This fellow in the center

IN A QUANDARY is Jack Clark, principal of Orinda's Gloria School, who is trying to determine how to start school next Thursday in a classroom void of all furniture. Shipment of furniture and supplies to classrooms included in the recently-completed Gloria additions has been delayed because of the San Francisco teamsters' strike. The supplies and furniture were to have arrived August 21, but school officials report it is impossible to tell accurately when the items will arrive.

No Tax Rise Is Promised

Tax rates of the East Bay Municipal Utility District for water service, and Special District No. 1 for sewage disposal for 1959-1960 will remain the same as for the past three years.

Louis J. Breuner, president of EBMUD directors, said existing tax rates were reaffirmed at the directors' August 28 meeting.

Although District costs have risen, the tax rate for the water system will remain at 20 cents for $100 of assessed valuation, he said.

This amount is levied on assessed property in the entire EBMUD service area, covering almost 245 square miles in the counties of Alameda and Contra Costa.

The Special District No. 1 tax rate will again stay at eight cents for $100 of assessed valuation on property within the cities of Alameda, Albany, Berkeley, Emeryville, Oakland and Piedmont, served by the sewage disposal system operated by Special District No. 1 of the EBMUD. Breuner said current revenues, actual contract costs to date, and estimates on future segments of the ten year construction program, are such as to make it possible to maintain tax rates at the same level for the current fiscal year.

These factors were the basis for the assurances given the voters in June, 1958, that no increase in tax rates would be necessary to finance the $252 million bond issue.

A NEW attempt at obtaining road lights for Tunnel Road between the Broadway tunnel and the Orinda Crossroads is being made by the Orinda Association. Here, Ken White (left), a director of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, and Clarence Betz, secretary of the chamber, look at an electroliner at the intersection of Brookwood Road and Camino Pablo—an example of the type Orindans hope will be placed on the Tunnel Road. An earlier attempt to obtain the lights was futile, and this time the association plans to take its woes to the Diablo Highway Federation. Incidentally, this intersection (above) is where a new traffic signal will be installed shortly.

China Is Featured at Eager Beavers' Shop

The Eager Beavers have high hopes of making their little thrift shop at 3437 Mt. Diablo Blvd. the best spot in Lafayette for better bargains.

They are acquiring a wider range of merchandise every week and new customers are finding we have much to offer.

THE BEST BUYS this week will be some fine Noritake china, with Bavarian-like pattern. Sewing machines, school clothes, books and Latex paint for that fall refresher job around the home.

Plus the usual bargains in every department. Come by and browse around.

It costs nothing to just look-see and we know you will be surprised at the wonderful buys that we have to offer.

IF WE DO NOT have in stock what you are looking for, we will be happy to take your name and phone number and notify you when we do have it.

This is just another personal service the Eager Beavers like to give their customers.

Fine Foliage Enjoyed By California Residents

Fine foliage is the mark of man trees and shrubs the world over.

But fine foliage and fruit, too, is a distinction very few enjoy. Fortunately, California gardens can have more than their share of the few.

Take the loquat, for instance. California Association of Nurserymen members find its large, deep green leaves ideally suited to landscape design—as a small specimen tree or as an espalier against the house wall or fence.

The orange clusters of fruit come in summer and are tantalizing to the taste.

THEN THERE'S the natal plum, an outstanding ornamental in its many forms. It bears oblong, red fruits that may be eaten fresh or used in preserves and jellies.

The waxy flowers come intermittently through the year, insuring an almost continuous supply of fruit in the home.

There are prostrate forms available for ground covers and upright varieties for screens and hedges. Natal plum's tenderness to frost limits its use in cold winter areas. PINEAPPLE GUAVA is to be planted in most of California for its unique combination of pleasant gray-green foliage, fleshy petaled blooms that are edible themselves in salads and the guava-like fruits, which can be eaten fresh or in preserves.

Plant pineapple guava wherever an airy, tall screen is desired. It stands pruning.

The true guavas—lemon and strawberry guavas—are best suited to southern California, though the latter is occasionally seen in northern gardens. The grassy foliage is attractive background to bright colors in the garden, and the fruit has a unique flavor, both fresh and in preserves.

OF ALL THE fruiting ornamentals, the clean, crisp foliage, bright red blooms and colorful fruits of the pomegranate are probably most cherished.

Improved flower forms are available and, while fruit fails to mature in north coastal gardens, it is worth growing just to look at. It's really too good looking to eat, anyway.

Wonder of Stafa For Blue Bloom

Here's what the California gardener ought to be doing this week:

The wonderful wonder of stafa (aster frikartii) will be showing up in bloom at nurseries. Plant several for vivid blue, daisy-like fall bloom.

Chrysanthemums take food at three-week intervals during growth. But hold off on further feeding when buds start to show color.

Sink pots of cyclamen in bloom for shade garden color from now through winter.

Cut back shasta daisies after bloom. Cut back marguerites to maintain shape and to encourage new growth and bloom.

Keep after slugs and snails. Toss poison pellets into flower beds, or mound snail bait at strategic points for attack.

Keep after fading blooms on annuals and such flowering shrubs as roses and fuchsias. Letting them go to seed weakens the plant, shortens the bloom period.

Confine summer pruning of deciduous shrubs and trees to shortening growth that is in the way or removing diseased branches. Too much summer pruning of these saps their energy and often leads to disaster.

Try the crape myrtles for a good show of summer color. Nurserymen offer some exciting new varieties of these favorite shrubs.

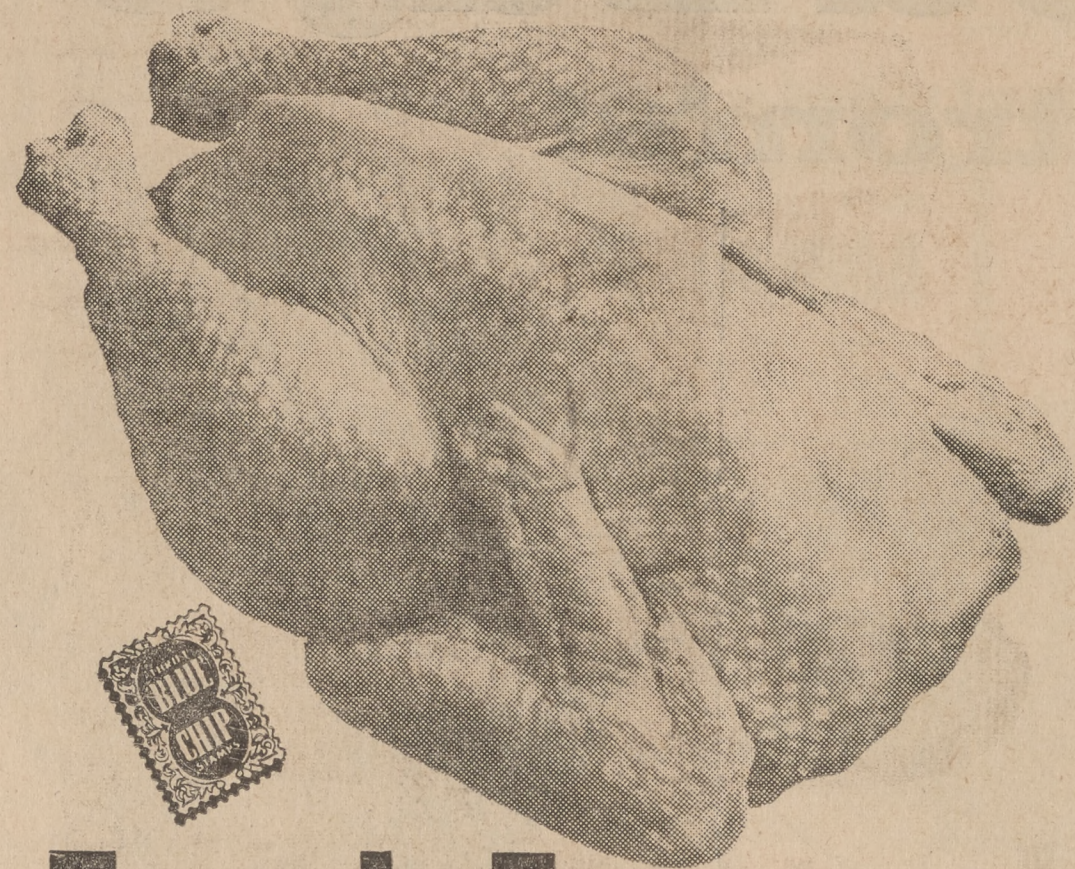

Fill in garden bare spots with quick color—mums in containers from your local nursery.

Plant fall blooming annuals from nursery flats. Sow seed for annuals to bloom in late fall and winter.

SUPERMARKETS
It is predicted by food industry leaders that the average supermarket will carry 15,000 items on their shelves by 1963, about 9,000 more items than are now being stocked. Stores receive about 6-10 new items for display annually, with many slow moving products weeded out simultaneously. Dairy products now account for approximately 20¢ out of every shopping dollar in the average store, on items such as fluid milk, cream, butter, ice cream, sour cream, cottage cheese and other related products.
